ANNUAL REPORT

ON

THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE TONK STATE, FOR THE YEAR 1332 FASLĪ.

CHAPTER I.

Brief History of Tonk.

Tonk State is situated partly in Rajputana and partly in Central India and consists of six Parganas that are separated from each other by distances varying from 20 to 250 miles. The Rajputana Parganas are Tonk, Aligarh and Nimbahera and those in Central India are Chhabra, Sironj and Pirawa. Tonk State has an area of 2,579 square miles, and a population of 2,87,898.

The founder of the State was Amir Khan, a Pathan or Afgan of the Buner tribe. Early in the 17th century, one Taleh Khan left his home in the Buner Country and took service in Rahilkhand with Ali Mohammad Khan, a Rohilla of distinction. His son, Hayat Khan, acquired some land in the Moradabad district, and he was the father of Amir Khan. The latter was born in 1768, and when 20 years of age, he left his home to carve out a career for himself. He first offered his services to De Boigne who was recruiting for Sindhia's Army, but De Boigne considered that he was too young and inexperienced, and declined to enlist him. For the next ten years he served as a mercenary leader whenever he could find lucrative employment, and in 1798, he was advanced to the command of a large army in the service of Jaswant Rao Holkar. He fought with distinction in the campaigns against Sindhia and the British, and he took no small part in levying the indemnities imposed on Rajputana and Malwa. Holkar appreciated his fighting qualities, and in order to have his services permanently at his command, he agreed to share all conquered territory with him. Sironj was accordingly made over to Amir Khan by Holkar in 1798, and Tonk and Pirawa fell to his share in 1806, Nimbahera was added to his territory in 1809, and Chhabra in 1816. On the entrance of the British into Malwa, Amir Khan made overtures to them, but the conditions he proposed were considered to be extravagant and were rejected. The British, however, offered to guarantee him all the lands he had been granted by Holkar, on condition that he abandoned the predatory system he had adopted, disbanded his army and surrendered his artillery, with the exception of 40 guns to the British at a valuation. Amir Khan agreed to these proposals, and they were embodied in a treaty in 1817. To the territories thus guaranteed, i. e. the five Parganas already mentioned, the fort and Pargana of Rampura, now known as Aligarh were added by the British Government and sum of three Lakhs were also given to him to enable him to finance his State. He administered the State till his death in 1834, when he was succeeded by his son Wazir Mohammad Khan the latter did much to consolidate the State, and during the mutiny he distinguished himself by holding the Tonk Fort with a small garrison against the combined forces of the Nawab of Banda and Tantia Topi. In acknowledgement of his services, his salute was raised from 15 to 17 guns, and he received a sanad guaranteeing the succession of his family according to Mohammadan Law, in the event of failure of natural heirs. He died in 1864, and was succeeded by his son Mohammad Ali Khan, who proved such an unsatisfactory ruler that he was deposed by the British Government in 1867, and was exiled to Benares, where he died in 1895. His son Hafiz Mohammad Ibrahim Ali Khan succeeded him in 1867, and is still ruler of the State. During His Highness' reign many reforms have been introduced and the Government of India have shown their appreciation of His Highness' merit by making him a Grand Companion of the Star of India and of the India Empire. His Highness' full title is Amin-ud-Doula Wazir-ul-Mulk Nawab Sir Hafiz Mohammad Ibrahim Ali Khan Bahadur Sowlat-Jung G.C.S.I., G.C.I.E. H. was pleased to advance the sum of Rs 20,000/- towards starting an agricultural bank in this Pargana. Only one stipulation was made that the money advanced should be repaid to the State without interest by yearly instalments over a period of twenty years or so.

Brief but complete Rules were drawn up for the working of the Bank which was put under the complete control of the Revenue Member.

A Board was formed in Chhabra of the leading Bankers, Patails and Patwaries under the presidency of the Nazim who was made responsible for the actual working and dealings of the Bank.

The main objects of the loans given by the Bank are as follows:-

(a) For repairs to wells, tanks, ories etc. i.e to improve sources of irrigation.

(b) To purchase bullocks.

(c) For seed food and agricultural impliments.

(d) To cultivate fallow lands or to improve inferior lands.

After completing the cultivators demands, the balance of the money remaining with bank was devoted to advance to merchants for the development of trade.

The Bank commenced working on the 29th October 1923. The rate of interest was fixed at 9% per annum, which was considered sufficient to cover the working expense of the Bank and to pay back the instalments into the State Treasury. The rate was placed as low as possible in consideration of the condition of the cultivators.

While on tour in February 1924 H. H. taking into consideration the condition of the pargana was pleased to remit the interest on the loans given in 1331 Fasli; although the undertaking has been going only $1\frac{1}{2}$ years, the results have been extremely satisfactory. The Manotidars who formally had it all their own way have been made by competition to regulate their interest with that taken by the Bank. Manoti dropped from Rs. 42,311 in 1331 Fasli to Rs. 32004/- in 1332 Fasli. The pargana is gradually coming under cultivation again and the cultivators are beginning to take a new lease to life. CHAPTER VII.

Report of the Inspector General of Police.

I have been incharge of the police throughout of the year. Range I was in the charge of M. Ahmad, Said Khan Superintendent Range II in that of M. Yusufali Khan Superintendent and Range III in that of M. Ali Husain Khan Superintendent.

Crime.

There were 1231 cases of crime reported this year as compared with 1174 last year. At the end of the year there were 149 cases pending enquiry with the Police, who had therefore 1380 cases to enquire into. The number of cognisable cases reported decreased by 34, and non-cognisable cases increased by 65; making an increase of 31 cases in all, due to the increase in non-cognisable cases. This increase requires no comment.

Of the 1380 cases dealt with by the police 1149 were cognisable and 231 non-cognisable. In the preceding year there were 1183 cognisable cases and 166 non-cognisable cases.

These figures do not represent a heavy incidence of crime as compared with the population of Tonk State; especially when the scattered nature of the pergannas is considered.

Distribution of cognisable crime.

	1331 F.	1332 F.	Increase.	Decrease.
Tonk.	321	280	...	41
Aligarh.	53	49	...	4

Sironj.	352	334	...	18
	<hr/> 1183	<hr/> 1149	<hr/> 50	<hr/> 84

Range II, consisting of Pirawa and Nimbahera, only have shown an increase in cognisable crime, which is due to an increase in house-breaking. The decrease in Tonk of 41 cases is similarly due to a fall in burglaries.

There is no necessity to show the distribution of non-cognisable Crime.

Of 1380 cases reported 1271 were investigated or a percentage of 91; in 109 cases enquiry was refused. Of the cases enquired into 677, or more than half, were challaned, and 345 remained untraced. 167 cases were expunged. 52 cases were still under enquiry at the end of the year.

Of the 677 cases challaned 463 were convicted, or an average of 68%, reflecting credit on the work of the State Police. Only 78 cases were acquitted, 3 expunged after being sent up for trial and 15 cases were made over to other States. 80 cases were pending in the courts at the end of the year. 38 cases were dealt with under the provisions of section 512 C. P. C.

The following statement will show the percentages of police work for the State as a whole.

Cases reported to convicted.	24 do.	34 do.

An improvement on all figures of the preceding year.

The cases expunged this year amounted to 170 or 12% against 157 or 11% last year.

The average of the State in acquittals is 11 Percent.

In the year under report 757 persons were arrested in cognisable crimes as compared with 806 the year before; and in noncognisable cases 318 were arrested as against 255 the year before. In all 1075 persons were arrested this year against 1064 last year. The following are the percentages relating to persons arrested.

	1931 F.	1932 F.
Arrested to convicted.	57 Per cent.	61 Per cent.
Challaned to convicted	65 do.	69 do.

An improvement.

Recoveries.

Stolen property this year amounted to Rs. 57,692/13/3 while in the preceding year it amount to Rs. 63,083/6/9. Recoveries amounted to Rs. 28,222/15/9 against Rs. 27,145/15/ of the previous year.

The average recoveries amounts to 48/14/6 this year as compared with Rs 42/13/10 last year. A very satisfactory improvement, and a high average when compared with the recoveries of other States. It also represents a further advance on the figures of the State for several preceding years. "Total value of cattle stolen whether by Dakaity, robbery, theft, or burglary, Rs. 21,800/8/- . Total value of cattle recovered Rs. 14,935/10/- . It will be seen that the value of cattle stolen provides a large percentage of the value of stolen property".
